If you want to get something off your chest about life in Andorra, AndAds recommends a letter to the Diari d'Andorra. Unlike writing to The Times, you are almost certain to get into print and it is read by all the politicians. You can even write in English and they will translate it for you. Send your letter by email to diariobert@diariandorra.ad. You should add your name and telephone number in case there is any doubt about the translation, but these will not be published if you ask to remain anonymous.

A message from Doug Pate: "Well the government have given a big YES to Australian rules here and a full page article was published in the Diari d'Andorra 28th May. They even say that if the response is good they'll look at presenting it to the schools and colleges similarly to the program already running in England and Denmark. A summarized version of the article is given in www.diariandorra.ad//noticies/view.php?ID=7129

The World Australian Football Federation (WAFF) hold their 9-a-side world championships 11th to 14th September this year in Valls and the idea is to take part and do very well. Andorra is already registered as a participant. Training each

Thursday (and most likely Tuesdays in the near future too) at 19:00 till 20:30 at the Camp de futbol d'Ordino." Contact: Doug Pate 639 512

Language Sopars needs more English-speakers. The idea is that English-speakers and Catalan-speakers meet for supper. For the first 30 minutes, they all speak English, then a whistle blows and for the next 30 minutes they all (try to) speak Catalan, and so on. It is a good laugh and you might even learn some Catalan !

At the same supper, there are some Spanish speakers in case you want to improve your Spanish.

The next languagesopar is on the 30th June at 8.30 pm in the Hotel Princep. If you are interested call 61 38 69.

If you want to see what the La Massana Seniors get up to, their end of term show is in the Fontetes theatre on 17th June. Choir, exercise class and dance class all take part - about 6pm. Ring Val - 835606 nearer the time to confirm.

Pic Negre Assault.

Due to the amount of snow still around the CIA trip to Pic Negre is now to be attempted on Tues. 1st July. The plan is to depart from La Rebassa café around 10.30am and take the 4-wheel drive vehicle up to Pic Negre. From there we can walk around admiring the view, the flowers and the fauna. If we get 26 people then the cost will be around ten euros each. Hopefully we can have coffee and buns up there but if we can't get boiling water then we might have to drink cava instead.

Additionally, we could either take our own picnics up there or have lunch in the cafe at La Rabassa afterwards. This trip can only be attempted in good weather so the date might have to be changed at short notice. For an extra thrill there's always the chance to ride the TurboTronc in the afternoon. If anyone is interested in visiting this remote area, please contact me: Gaye Keep at gckkeep@andorra.ad or on 839070

A letter from Susan Payne: "Young single mother with child desperately needs everything to set up home in a rented apartment starting 1st July so if anyone has anything they do not want or are willing to sell for a small price please contact Maria Pilar Puente who does a lot for the English as she is helping the young lady in question. The lady is also very willing to babysit; she speaks mainly French and some Spanish. Maria's mobile number is 327878."
